

Remembering William Shakespeare: 23rd April, 2021

In order to mark Shakespeare's remembrance on his birth and death anniversary (23rd April) in these gloomy times of Covid19 pandemic, the Department of English pulled off an environment friendly socio-literary endeavour by inviting the students for a unique workshop. The students were asked to plant a sapling around them and name it on any one of their favourite Shakespeare characters. Responding to the same around 75 students from Semester 1, 3, 5 along with 3 alumni members of the department participated in this drive through Google Classroom. More than 65 saplings were planted in response which made this day a remarkable one. Students were promising and creative enough in naming their saplings on the names of various Shakespearean characters. They also promised to take care of these plants for all the times to come. The event was curated by Dr. Varsha Singh. The drive received encouraging response from scholars around the country.

Happy birthday "Shakespeare"

Book name 'As you like it'
Character name - Forest Lord
A faithful lord who accompanies Duke Senior into exile in the Forest of Ardenne. Given his inability to participate in life, it is fitting that Jaques alone refuses to follow Duke Senior and the other courtiers back to court, and instead resolves to assume a solitary and contemplative life in a monastery.
