

Special Online lecture Series

- ❖ With the onset of the pandemic novel coronavirus (Covid-19), it has becoming impossible for the colleges to continue with face to face teaching learning process. Naturally alternative system had to be devised
- ❖ With the third week of March 2020, our college started some teaching online ,i.e., google classroom. With the beginning of April, almost every department started online teaching. Within a month, online teaching was given a structure and all members of the faculty given training of online classes through workshop conducted by the College and video conferencing facilities created and developed by the College .More than 90% students were reached out , and could be included in online classes .
- ❖ The Department of Political Science decided to have a series of Guest Lectures(three) by scholars and academicians of outside institutions of Political Science during the month of August.